The annual report of County Treasurer Pratt Boice was received and read at the Wednesday evening session of the Board of Supervisors. The report shows that the county is in excellent shape financially with no bonded indebtedness and that it has not been necessary to borrow any money during the last year for any purpose whatsoever. In addition there are sufficient funds on hand to meet all requirements
until funds from the next tax levy become available after January 1, 1938.

A summary of the annual report, which was referred to the committee on county treasurer, is as follows:

Balance on hand at beginning
of year November 1, 1936:
Available for general purposes $ 199,067.94
Available for highway purposes 17,834.41
Available for court and trust funds 61,472.17
Total receipts for year for
all purposes 2,857,161.01
Total disbursements for year for
all purposes 2,741,762.25
Balance on hand at end of year, October 31, 1937:

poses $ 223,366.81

poses 135,255.56

Farm and Home Bureau—
A communication was received from the Ulster County Farm
and Home Bureau Association with reports of the three departments. A request was made for an appropriation of $4,400 for the Farm Bureau, $2,250 for the 4-H Club work and $3,000 for the Home Bureau for the year 1938.
Referred to committee on appropriations.

Deputy Commissioner of Public Welfare Lamoreaux sent a communication calling attention of the board to the fact that for the succeeding year for the Old Age Division the sum of $43,000 for relief and $9,500 for administrative purposes would be required and also an additional sum of $4,000 for the burial fund, a total of $56,- 500. Referred to committee on appropriations.

Clarence E. Brown, president of the Ulster County Branch, State Charities Aid, submitted his annual report. The report called attention to the fact that a very considerable amount of work had been done during the past year
and that there had been collected the sum of $5,859.09, more than the amount which had been appropriated by the board to carry on the work. The report stated that the work was a most worthy one and a request for $3,700, the same as the present year, was asked.
With the report was the statistical report of Mary C. Doremus, children's agent for the county. Treasurer Joseph M. Fowler submitted his annual report for the year showing receipts of $4,489.16 and disbursements of $3,788.64, leaving a balance of $700.52. The reports were received and filed
and the request for an appropriation similar to the last one was referred to the committee on appropriations.

County Veterinarian Reports—
A report of the work done by the Committee on Eradication of Bovine Tuberculosis was received from County Veterinarian Fleming. Receipts for the year were $2,451.91 and expenditures $2,- 408.52, leaving a balance of $43.39 at the close of the fiscal year. A request for $2,000 for next year's work was received and referred to the committee on appropriations. Last year an appropriation of $2,100 was asked and allowed.

Supervisor Lemuel DuBois of Olive extended an invitation to all members of the board to be guests of the town of Olive at a dinner to be given the board Saturday evening, November 27, at Kenozia
Lake Club when the town board will be host. There was almost a unanimous acceptance of the invitation.

Resolutions Offered—
The following resolutions were offered and went over under the rule:

Supervisor Cashdollar of Woodstock that there be raised on the town the following sums for the following purposes: $6,000 for WPA; $2,500 to pay building
bonds and interest due in 1938;
$200 for Woodstock Public Library; $150 for American Legion Post; $2,300 to pay certificates of indebtedness and interest; $50 for maintenance of Willow Cemetery;
$50 for maintenance of Zena Cemetery.

Supervisor Sutton of Plattekill
that there be raised on that town
the sum of $3,152.07 to pay certificate of indebtedness and interest issued for WPA and Welfare Purposes; the sum of $955.85 to pay certificate of indebtedness issued for voting machines; $1,085
to pay highway bonds and interest.

In Mrs. Hommel's
Appeal for $3,000

Albany, Nov. 18 (Special)—Arguments have been heard by the Appellate Division, Third Department, in the appeal of Mrs. Anna Hommel, of West Saugerties, from the action of the town board of Saugerties in refusing her claim of $3,000 for the death of her husband, Oscar H. Hommel.

It is contended by Mrs. Hommel that her husband, who died February 11, 1935, sustained the injuries resulting in his death while engaged as a member of the volunteer fire company maintained by the Centerville Fire District. According to the record in the case,
Oscar Hommel on February 10, 1935, while preparing and cooking
some food on an oil stove in his home at West Saugerties, spilled some grease, which became ignited
and set fire to his house.

After unsuccessfully attempting to extinguish the fire, Hommel left
the house, but a few minutes later
re-entered it, in an effort to rescue some property. The second attempt to salvage his property resulted in his receiving severe burns, from which he died on the following day.

An Ulster County Supreme Court decision, which ruled against Mrs. Hommel, held that Hommel was not engaged in service as a volunteer fireman at the time he received his injuries, inasmuch as no alarm had been given,
and the fire department was never summoned to the fire.

Decision by the Appellate Division has been reserved, pending further study by the court of the testimony and record.

Counsel for Mrs. Hommel is Seth T. Cole, of Catskill.

It was Vivian Smith, not Everett Ballard, who shot the huge bear pictured in Wednesday evening's Freeman.

U.S.-Great Britain
To Talk Trade Pact
In Few Weeks

Washington, Nov. 18 (AP)—The United States and Great Britain agreed today to negotiate for a reciprocal trade pact, a decision
fraught with far-reaching economic and political implications.

It was the first formal step toward an objective long sought by the Roosevelt administration
as an indispensable feature of its program for liberalization of world commerce.

The decision was announced by Secretary Hull in a statement
asserting merely that the United States "contemplates" such negotiations.

Actual start of the negotiations, expected within a few weeks, will climax more than a year of exploratory work by representatives of both governments in London and Washington.

Hull's announcement, released
simultaneously with a statement to the British House of Commons
on the subject, gave no hint of the basis of approach agreed upon nor any details of the long preliminary conversations.

There appeared good reason to believe, however, that the British government probably consented to consider granting to some American products treatment
equal to that which it now accords to goods from the British dominions under "Empire preference."

Would Set President.

If an agreement, even in principle, were reached on this point, it would be the first time
that a foreign nation had broken through the Ottawa agreement of 1932 under which the British commonwealth of nations adopted
a schedule of preferential tariffs favoring empire products to the disadvantage of outside goods.

Apart from the strictly economic aspects, some observers attach potential political significance to the action. They express the view that it would emphasize the close cooperation already evidenced between the two governments at the Brussels Far Eastern Conference and that it would constitute, in effect, an answer from the leading expan-
sionists of Democratic government to the new alliance between Italy,
Germany and Japan.

Hull invited interested persons in the United States to submit suggestions to the state department as to products that should be considered in the trade negotiations. A formal notice of intention to negotiate, to be issued later, will contain a list of goods
on which the United States will consider granting concessions to the United Kingdom. Public hearings will precede the opening of actual negotiations.

21st Nation

Washington, Nov. 18 (AP)—
Great Britain became today the twenty-first nation with which the United States has announced its intention of inaugurating reciprocal trade negotiations.

Agreements with 16 nations
have been put into effect since the reciprocal trade act, permitting the President to lower or raise tariffs as much as 50 per cent in return for like concessions, became operative in 1934.

Those countries are: Cuba,
Brazil, Belgium, Haiti, Sweden,
Colombia, Canada, Honduras, the Netherlands, Switzerland, Nicaragua, Guatemala, France, Finland, Costa Rica and El Salvador.

Keefe Testifies Winne
Used Vivid Language,
Threatened Troopers

Says Quarryville Man Resisted
Arrest and Expressed Desire to Blow off Trooper's Head—Tells How He Threw Winne.

ALL OVER WOMAN

Trouble Arose Over Woman
Resident of High Falls, Town of Saugerties.

State Trooper Walter Keefe,
who arrested Clark Winne of Quarryville on October 5 last on a disorderly conduct charge, Winne
now being tried on a charge of assault, testified in County Court
this morning that at the time
Winne had cursed the Troopers
and threatened to "run the Troopers out" if they did not run Mrs.
Stephan, a resident of High Falls,
town of Saugerties, out of the locality. During this conversation Trooper Keefe said Winne used very violent language and as a result Sergeant James Cunningham ordered Winne arrested.

Keefe said that when he placed Winne under arrest there was no resistance until he ordered Winne into the patrol car nearby. Then Winne resisted and with the remark that "If I get my gun in the house, I'll blow you --- heads off of you," Winne started to run for the house.

The Trooper said he ran and overtook Winne and caught him about the feet and threw him to the ground. Winne had made a pass at the Trooper and Keefe said
he had been struck on the head and his hat knocked off. Winne
he said squared off and attempted to fight back but the Trooper knocked him down and attempted to subdue him. It was at this point Sergeant Cunningham came and there ensued a struggle to get the handcuffs on Winne.

Tried to Get Gun

During the struggle the Trooper
said Winne had made several attempts to get his gun and in order to keep the gun from Winne he had been compelled several times
to release his grip on the prisoner and each time this prolonged the tussle.

The cuffs were eventually placed on the prisoner. So large were his wrists that the cuffs snapped only in the first notch
while the average man's wrist will take the third or fourth notch.

"I knew Winne had been confined to an institution for mental patients a few years ago," said Keefe, "and I knew it would be too bad for me if he got away
and got his shotgun from the house. It was a real battle and I knew what would happen if he got my gun. It was a battle for my life," said the officer.

Cunningham Called.

When court opened this morning Sergeant James Cunningham called. He said Mrs. Stephan, known as Mrs. Hanke, had received a complaint that four men had been prowling about her house and that one was Clark Winne. He went to the place to investigate the complaint and then went to the Winne house to interview Winne, who told the sergeant that he had been at the place with a man, Pat McLaughlin.

While Sergeant Cunningham
was talking with Winne about the matter on the front porch a car came over the road and he ordered Trooper Keefe to stop the car and investigate. The other two men involved were not known. When Keefe stopped the car the sergeant told Winne to stay on the porch and he would talk to him later. When Sergeant Cunningham reached the stopped car on the highway
Winne followed to the street.

Matter of Saw.

"Winne said if we did not chase that woman out, he would chase us out and he talked about someone stealing his saw," said
the sergeant. He said Winne had entered a complaint of someone stealing a saw and that complaint
had been under investigation.

When Winne continued to use vivid and abusive language and said he would run the Trooper out if they did not run "that woman"
out Keefe was directed to place
Winne under arrest for disorderly conduct. Keefe did so and started for the troop car when Vincent McLaughlin called attention to a scuffle. It was then the sergeant entered the fray. Repeated passes were made at the officers by Winne and Winne attempted to prevent the cuffs being placed on his wrists. He attempted to get the gun from Trooper Keefe and struggled for several minutes before he was subdued and the cuffs placed on his wrists by the sergeant.

Cunningham Injured

During the scuffle Sergeant
Cunningham was injured about the left hand.

Asked as to the placing of the cuffs on Winne's wrists the sergeant said:

"He has a pretty big mitt. It takes only one cuff of the cuff to get around."

Fire At Pintard's

This morning at 3:19 o'clock,
the St. Remy Fire Department sent 22 men to fight a fire at William Pintard's Black Swan Inn in Rifton, where they checked
a blaze between the rafters and flooding in the boiler room, that might have done between $50,- 000 and $60,000 worth of damage, according to Sam Barnett,
a trustee of the department.

Fireman Barnett said the fire evidently started from overheated
woodwork in the boiler room,
and that the damage was comparatively slight to what it might have been. If it were not for the fire fighters of Chief Robert Hoffman, four of whom were overcome by smoke after chopping
their way in from the outside.

Chemicals and water forced into the blaze by the St. Remy pumper checked the flames.
Water was procured in buckets
from the creek nearby and from a well by a bucket brigade that worked diligently to keep the pumper tank loaded.

Committee's Aim.

The subcommittee's aim was described thus:
Helping business by stimulating an increase in the volume of transactions in the market, without losing any revenue, rather than granting relief to taxpayers
with higher incomes.

The legislators proposed to achieve this by revising the formula for determining the amounts of capital gains subject to taxation.

Under present law, 100 per cent of capital gains are included in and are taxed with other income if they are made on assets held no more than a year, 80 per cent if assets are held between one and two years, 60 per cent
between two and five years, 40 per cent between five and ten years, and 20 per cent if more than ten years.

Checking Census Cards

The clerks of the Kingston post office department are busy checking the unemployment cards
which were delivered to every family in Kingston on Tuesday,
and none of the cards that are filled out and mailed will be forwarded to Washington until checked here by the postal force.

Postmaster William R. Kraft said today that every card returned has to be checked to see that all of the questions have been answered and if any discrepancy is discovered the one who made out the card is contacted and the answer checked. The card contains 14 questions that must be answered.

The work of delivering the 15,000 unemployment cards was taken up Tuesday morning by the mail carriers and the work of delivering them completed that day. In addition to delivering a card to every family in the city
the carriers on the three rural routes working out of Kingston left cards at every house on their routes.

Senator Bailey's Flibuster
Against Anti-Lynching, Meanwhile, Goes on Aimlessly, Dominating Special Session.

TAX EXEMPTION

No Conclusions Reached, Because Estimates of Revenue Losses Not Ready.

Washington, Nov. 18 (AP)—
Near-agreement in the Senate
Agriculture Committee on farm control legislation brought promise today of a break in aimless debate which has dominated the special congressional session.

Senator Bailey (D-NC) carried on the southern filibuster against anti-lynching in the Senate. But Chairman Smith (D-SC) told reporters an "ever-normal granary"
farm bill—patterned after administration recommendations—would be ready Monday to displace the lynching measure.

Fulfillment of this prediction
would bring before the special session, one week after convening,
the first of a four-point program
recommended by President Roosevelt—farm, wage-hour, regional planning and executive reorganization legislation.

A House tax subcommittee
talked of—but did not agree finally—granting all corporations
some exceptions from the undistributed profits tax which has been assailed by business. The House apparently settled itself into another day of political oratory.

House tax subcommittee
talked today of granting all corporations some exemption from the undistributed profits tax.

No Tax Conclusions.

Chairman Wilson (D-Ky) said
no conclusions were reached because treasury estimates of revenue losses had not been prepared.

The committee's discussion centered on exempting certain amounts, or percentages of income of corporations having net incomes of more than $5,000.

The subcommittee already has agreed tentatively to exempt entirely corporations with net income up to $5,000.

"We have been thinking," the chairman said, "about exemptions that would stop at $50,000,
or perhaps $100,000, and about percentage exemptions that would run clear through the entire list of corporations. They might, or might not, be graduated."

A general exemption would permit corporations to withhold from distribution, tax free, a portion of their incomes and use it for plant expansion, debt retirement, strengthening of capital structure, operating expenses or for any other purpose they saw fit.

The subcommittee, however,
has not precluded inclusion in its tax revision program of specific relief provisions for corporations that went to improve plants or pay off debts, Vinson said.

Depends on Deadline

Chances for the wage-hour bill depended largely on breaking a deadline in the House rules committee unless a discharge petition,
signed by 195 House members,
sets 113 more signatures.

Prospects for the other two administration measures—government reorganization and regional planning—were greatly dimmed,
leaders conceded, by the time-consuming filibuster in the Senate
over the anti-lynching bill.

Pressure for tax revision during the short session grew steadily
amid evidence of almost unanimous congressional sentiment for modifying the corporate surplus and capital gains levies. But Democratic Leader Barkley of the Senate said:

Manila, Nov. 18 (AP)—The worst typhoon of the year raged
in the central Philippines tonight, with 10 known dead and probably heavy casualties in broad regions isolated by 100-mile winds. Property damage was counted in millions of dollars.

The typhoon was moving into the China Sea 140 miles northwest of Manila, but the danger to Manila and Central Luzon island
had not passed, since the typhoon might swing eastward, weather
observers said.

Grange Tax Stand.
Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 18 (AP)—Reforms in taxation, providing that the greater part of the cost of government should come from taxing incomes, particularly those in the higher brackets, was advocated by the National Grange Convention today, following adoption of the report of its taxation committee.

The delegates, representing some 800,000 farm people in 35 states, asserted exemptions of all income-tax-exempt securities and 45-cent salaries should be discouraged.

Art Patroness Feared
Chicago, Nov. 18 (AP)—The Chicago Art Institute opened its doors today for the 48th annual American exhibition, but not with the approval of one of its leading patronesses, Mrs. Frank G. Logan. The donor of the coveted $500 Logan award saw the 246 paintings at a preview yesterday and discovered she and the art institute were still poles apart in their evaluation of modern art value.

"It isn't worth a nickel," was her judgment of Wyoming Landscapes, by Aaron Bohrod, a Chicagoan. That was the Logan prize winner selected by a distinguished jury.

"Shocking," "ghastly" and "unspeakable" were a few of the pungent terms she reserved for other entries.

Senate Trying To Trim Costs of Granary Program

Washington, Nov. 18 (AP)—Senate farm leaders said today they were trying to trim costs of the proposed ever-normal granary program to $500,000,000, the amount Congress already has authorized for farm benefit payments in 1938.

Both Senate and House agriculture committees adopted a "give and take" attitude, apparently in an effort to get farm bills before the two chambers as soon as possible.

Senator Pope (D., Idaho), one of the sponsors of the administration bill, said costs of the granary program were being pared in an effort to "get along with the same amount of money that has been spent on other farm measures."

"This may mean smaller payments to farmers," Pope said, "but it also will eliminate need for processing taxes and all the opposition to them."

President Roosevelt has said that if Congress increases the amount needed for farm aid, it must provide the revenue through new taxes.

Chairman Smith (D., S. C.) called technical experts before the Senate committee again today and said: "Whatever seems to be the most sensible method for a permanent program, I am going to advocate it."

Smith declared "some sort of a farm bill" will be ready for Senate debate on Monday.

is that the former talk into loudspeakers and the latter into dictaphones.

CASEY HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM TRUCK

James Casey of Chichester had a narrow escape from being knocked down by a truck on Clinton avenue on Wednesday afternoon. Following his escape from injury he was arrested on a charge of public intoxication. This morning in police court he said he had no recollection of escaping injury. He was sentenced to 10 days in jail by Judge Culliton.

Alger Ashley, a negro of Hackensack, N. J., was jailed for five days. He had been picked up on a charge of public intoxication. John Franklin of Glens Falls, arrested for panhandling on Broadway, was sentenced to five days in jail. Captain Hubert J. Burrows of the Eagle Hotel arrested on a warrant sworn out by Barney Brady, charging Burrows with assault in the second degree, had his hearing set for November 23. Brady claims Burrows assaulted him with a club.

Stole Tremper's Auto and Crashed Into Another Car

Alderman Jacob H. Tremper, widely known insurance man, is a firm believer in insurance. He is even more firmly convinced today that it pays to carry insurance than ever before, and there-by haunts the following true tale.

It was shortly after 5 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when the telephone rang in police headquarters and Saul Sobsey of 335 Washington avenue, reported that a car bearing license number 8D610NY had crashed into his car on Greenkill avenue, damaging it and that the driver of the car did not stop but proceeded on at full speed.

A few minutes later the telephone again rang in police headquarters. It was Alderman Tremper calling to inform the police that he had parked his Pontiac coupe on Marius street and that when he went to get it it had disappeared. He furnished the police with the license plate numbers. They were the same numbers as reported on the car that had struck the Sobsey machine.

The police sent out a general alarm on the radio, and Alderman Tremper also assisted in the search and found his car, badly damaged, where it had been abandoned on Henry street by the thief.

"Was your car badly damaged, alderman?" a reporter asked the alderman of the Second Ward. "It was," replied Alderman Tremper crisply, "but fortunately the damage is fully covered by insurance."

Keefe Testifies Against Winne

Idaho and further investigation had been halted.

In justice's court in Saugerties Winne was charged with disorderly conduct and later convicted and sentenced to jail.

Graphic Tale

When Trooper Keefe was called he testified in very graphic words the language used by Winne just prior to the arrest for disorderly conduct.

Just as he opened the troop car door for Winne to enter the aged man turned, swung and knocked the trooper's hat off and ran for the house with the remark that if he got his shot-gun from the house he would blow the trooper's heads off the troopers.

Cross examined Keefe said he knew the defendant was about 55 years old. He told defense counsel that if he did not believe Winne could put up a fight to "try and arrest him." He said he realized that Winne had been in an insane asylum once and he knew that it would be too bad for the officers if Winne got hold of a gun.

At this point prosecution rested the case and an adjournment was taken until 1 o'clock when defense will take up that side of the case. William Kelly and Raymond Mino appeared for the defendant and Mr. Murray and Mr. Haver for the People.

Calls Assault Ridiculous

Holding that an assault upon State Trooper Walter Keefe by aged Clark Winne was "ridiculous," William Kelly, defense counsel, told an Ulster county jury at the opening of the assault trial in county court Wednesday that he would show that the troopers had called Winne from his home on October 5, last, without provocation and that if any assault did take place it was provoked by the troopers and was a "justified assault." He told the jury that no lawful apprehension was attempted by the troopers of Winne prior to the assault and that any claim of an assault upon the officers by Winne, an aged man, was "ridiculous."

However two witnesses who were sworn by the prosecution testified that Winne had not been called out to the highway by the troopers but that he followed Sergeant Cunningham out of his own accord to the public highway where Trooper Keefe had stopped two local residents for questioning and that the assault took place on the highway after Winne had been placed under arrest by Trooper Keefe for using abusive language. It was when the officer was taking Winne to his car after the arrest on a disorderly conduct charge that the assault on the trooper took place, according to the witnesses.

Emma Stephan Testifies

Emma Stephan, also known as Emma Hanke, was the first witness called. She testified that on the evening of October 5, she had left her home at High Falls, town of Saugerties, and was at a neighbor's when she saw a car drive up to her house. She was expecting a caller and returned to find that it was not the person she expected but that there was a car there with two men in the front seat who covered up their faces when she flashed a light into the car. In the rear was Clark Winne whom she spoke to and recognized. On her premises was another person who was flashing a light about the premises.

Called Troopers

Mrs. Stephan said she called the Troopers headquarters in Saugerties and asked them to come and investigate. She had experienced trouble with Winne before. The officers came and inspected her premises and left on an investigation.

James McLaughlin of Quarryville was next called. He said he had known Winne for 15 years and he and Winne had never experienced any unpleasantness. Between 7:30 and 8 o'clock on October 5 he and his brother, Vincent, were driving down the road when Trooper Keefe stopped the car near the Winne place and asked them to get out while he examined the car. As they stood by the car Sergeant James Cunningham came down from the Winne home and a short distance behind him came Winne.

Profane Language

There ensued a conversation which the witness said he could not recall, but he did remember profane language was used by Winne and Winne mentioned Mrs. Stephan and said something about getting her out of High Falls. Finally Keefe placed Winne under arrest after profane language had been used by Winne. The officer placed his hand on Winne's shoulder and told him he was arrested. They started off toward the Troop car which was parked in the drive of the Winne place and next the witness observed a scuffle going on near the car. The officer and Winne had squared off and there was a fight in progress. Sergeant Cunningham went over and after a time the witness said Trooper Keefe struck Winne and the officers then placed handcuffs on him and took him away. The fight took about five minutes the witness said.

McLaughlin Called

Vincent McLaughlin was next called. His testimony was practically the same as his brother's and he too could not recall conversation but said he did hear Winne say to the Troopers something about Mrs. Stephan and getting her out of High Falls and also said something about the Troopers getting back his radiator from his saw outfit which was missing. Profane language was used by Winne to the officers on the highway and Trooper Keefe arrested Winne on a charge of disorderly conduct and took him to the car. Next he said there was a fight.

On cross examination the witness said he heard Winne say, "why don't you find the guy who took the radiator off my saw," and also that he would like to get "that woman" out of High Falls.

Says Keefe Struck Man

The witness said he knew to whom Winne was referring, although he did not recall her name being mentioned. He saw but one blow struck and that was when Keefe struck Winne after the scuffle had been in progress some time. Winne was then cuffed by the two troopers and taken away. Sergeant Cunningham and the two McLaughlin boys were some distance away from Keefe and Winne when the scuffle started and it was well under way when one of the boys noticed the fight, and called the sergeant's attention to it. Sergeant Cunningham then went over and took a hand in getting the handcuffs on Winne.

The Winne case is the last criminal action to be tried and jurors not engaged on the trial have been excused for the term.

KINGSTON, N. Y., NOV. 18, 1937

CHRISTMAS CLUB

Christmas Club checks totalling $320,000,000 will be distributed to about 6,400,000 members this year according to an estimate given out Tuesday by Herbert P. Rawll, founder and president of Christmas Club, a corporation. In the city of Kingston approximately $270,000 will be distributed. This is a larger sum than that of last year when about $257,000 was received by members.

These figures indicate the widespread savings for funds to carry out the Christmas shopping. The great value in saving in order to be able to bring added cheer into the home at Christmas time is attracting more people each year. Voluntary saving in small sums for specific purposes is an ideal medium that generally is appreciated.

The release of these millions just ahead of the holidays ought to make a fine start toward a lively Christmas trade. Not all the money will be spent for gifts and general festivities. Some of it will be transferred to regular savings accounts. Some will be used for emergency needs, for taxes, coal, clothing, etc. Most of it, however, was saved for the purpose of Christmas spending and will go promptly into the stores.

In anticipation of the great stream of Christmas shoppers, local merchants have stocked their stores with the latest in merchandise and already the advertisements show how well the merchants are prepared to serve the public.

HEALTH RECORD IN BONES

It is remarkable what physicians nowadays can read in people's skeletons, by means of X-ray pictures. Crises of personal and family history are there for those who can interpret them. Thus if there is great discord between parents, their battles "show up as scars on the bones of their children." This and many other strange revelations are made in a medical book entitled "Atlas of Skeletal Maturations" by Dr. T. Wingate Todd, head of the anatomy department of Western Reserve University. He has studied 250,000 X-ray plates, mostly showing the hands of school children. Almost any severe shock, he says, will register in the bones of the hands. He finds in them records of explosions, as when a family's house blew up, and mental and physical upsets or irregularities of many kinds.

In the bones are written, from year to year and month to month, illuminating facts regarding a boy's or girl's growth and health. By watching the bones, and checking them periodically, a physician can know whether a child is ahead or behind in physical development, whether he is getting proper nourishment, and so on. It seems to provide a convenient way of checking up. Doubtless similar records are written elsewhere in the body. Some experts have long maintained that they could tell a person's state of health from the iris of his eye, and others find similar evidence in other organs.

NOT SPIES—JUST FROSH

It is very easy to work up a spy scare these days, even in this comparatively safe and happy land. Two young fellows, one a freshman at Brown University and the other a freshman at Yale, decided to attend a football game together. One of them sent the other a telegram telling him to get tickets in a certain section and giving the time of his arrival. The telegram contained only thirteen words, but what words! There were such alphabetical masterpieces as "ekzeknek," "tizenkettoizennegykor" and "meg-zettek." The navy intelligence department was promptly informed of this strange communication. Because of a new type of torpedo chamber recently invented, there has been considerable alertness at the New London submarine base for possible spies. The telegram was followed up and the two college lads investigated. The truth proved harmless and very collegiate. The message had been sent in Hungarian because it required fewer words than in English. The thrifty sender had saved 32 cents thereby. So no one was locked up or shot at sunrise and the joke seems to have been on the telegraph office and not the navy.

DEBT-FREE CITY

Kalamazoo, Mich., prides itself on being the only city in the United States of 50,000 population that is now wholly out of debt. Shortly after election day, in a special ceremony, the retiring mayor and the newly elected mayor burned the last municipal bond. In 1918 Kalamazoo had a bonded indebtedness of $438,514. In that same year it inaugurated a new form of government—the city commission manager plan, and a new financial policy—the pay-as-you-go. Since that date it has paid its current expenses and retired its bonds at the rate of $23,000 a year.

Well, some cities and some people are that way. They manage to live within their income and put by a little for emergencies; they have a good time but avoid waste and extravagance. It isn't common yet, among either cities or individuals, and it is even less heard of among national governments.

That Body of Yours

BREATHING EXERCISES

There is no question but that the cause of asthma in many cases is allergy or sensitivity to certain substances—foods, feathers, pollen of plants, and some drugs.

In other cases some defect or deformity of nose and throat appears to be a factor as the removal of this defect or deformity prevents or lessens the effects of asthmatic attacks.

While the exact cause of asthma in any or every case is unknown, it has been found that if the walls of the chest get loosened up so that the asthmatic breathes more deeply, much improvement results.

I have spoken before of the exercises for asthma as used by the asthma clinics under the supervision of the Asthma Research Council formed in Great Britain ten years ago.

"In an asthmatic attack the size of the little air tubes is lessened because there is a little spasm or tightening of the walls of these little air tubes. This causes an active congestion of the mucous in the tube and a little 'plug' is formed." It is the getting rid of this little plug of mucus that is described as an asthmatic attack. The exercises enable the chest walls to press harder and the plug is coughed up more readily.

The exercises are as follows:
 1. Sit with back supported or lie with knees drawn up. With hand on upper abdomen, feel fingers sinking in when breathing out; that is, contract or tighten the abdominal muscles.

2. Relax abdominal muscles by taking in a short (not a long) breath. Do not let upper part of chest move on breathing in.

3. In sitting position again. With hands over lower ribs, wrists well back and fingers pointing forwards, begin to breathe but. Continue to breathe out until you cannot breathe out any more air—tighten the abdominal muscles. Then squeeze the ribs to drive out any air that may still be left.

4. Relax abdominal muscles and expand lower ribs while taking in a "short" breath.

Two's Company

The Characters

Nina, Junior League and ex-debutante, impulsively married David, hoping to end her loneliness for her stepfather.

Richard, the charming well-tailored stepfather back from a long cruise, resumes his love-making to Nina.

Honey, Nina's gay, childish mother, is told about Richard and does not suspect the strong attraction between him and Nina.

David, a bright young auto salesman on a small salary, adores Nina but they argue over money matters.

That's like you. But forget the man. Think of my feelings. Tell me that you love me, Nina.

"I do—I do—I do."

She took off her hat and threw it high up in the air.

It fell down on top of the chrysanthemums, and she left it there. She ran both hands through her fair hair, with the fingers spread like a giant comb, and when she had finished she had a surprised, Alice-in-Wonderland look to her.

Richard laughed his low, chuckling laugh, that was almost a growl sometimes, and reached her in three strides.

He said: "Adorable..." against her ear, and then began to kiss her... slowly... little ones that were just pressing, really, against her temple, her closed eyes, her cheek.

But when he reached her lips, it was a different kind of kiss. It demanded, it took, it seemed never ending. And Nina never wanted it to end.

It swept through her in a dizzying tide.

He released her to whisper something which she could not hear... but only for a moment, his lips were on hers again.

"What Shall We Do?"

"Nina you know what I've been meaning, don't you... don't you? We can't go on this way... it isn't necessary now, Richard. Nina was whispering. Her throat was clogged. She could scarcely force the words through.

"I'm ready to face it now... at last."

"Nina..."

"Richard..."

Richard said: "Adorable," against her ear, and then began to kiss her—slowly.

At Ardley they turned off, and after a few miles drove in between high entrance gates to a long, brick house, that overlooked the Hudson.

"What's this, Richard? It isn't an inn, is it?"

And he said: "No. A friend of mine—Conroy—lives here, but he's wintering in Europe. Met him this summer... He told me to use the place whenever I liked. His man used to wait for us both, in London, once. We'll be nicely alone."

"Very—nicely."

Richard had telephoned, so that the butler was ready for them.

"I prepared the loggia, Mr. Chaloner, sir."

They walked through a wide hall, and a living-room—shrouded, not too gloomily, in slip-covers, and on to the veranda.

Tea Was A Joke

A golden sun was getting all ready to sink later, behind the Palisades.

There were golden asters, and bronze chrysanthemums in a vase on the table.

The man lit the flame under a silver kettle, brought cakes and sandwiches, and stronger beverage in a decanter, which he placed on a low stand, and departed.

A smooth, sloping lawn, giant oak trees and bright sky formed a frame for the river.

A white yacht glided by.

Nina said: "We'll be on a boat some day... you and I..."

And Richard kissed her.

Tea, itself, was a joke, really.

Nina said: "You read things about 'her lovely hands flattered about the tea things, like two white doves'... but I'm making a mess of it. I'm too excited—being with you."

"I'm not exactly—level-headed," at the moment, either, you know?"

"Shall we abandon this? Wrap up a few sandwiches and dump them out of the car, later, so as not to hurt the man's feelings?"

Richard laughed.

Nina lashed Richard in bitter anger, tomorrow.

"ON OUR WAY!"

By BRESSLER

Old City of Ghent Has

Annual Parade of Nuns

Once a year the ancient city of Ghent provides a show that can be seen nowhere else on earth. It is the procession on the day of Assumption of the Virgin. At that time, writes Frederic Babcock in the Chicago Tribune, the nuns of the Twelfth century Beguines pour forth from their walled and moated refuges and, with heads bent within their white veils, permit the tourists and natives to watch them parade solemnly through the streets.

The Beguineage—its name's origin still a mystery—came into existence in the days of the Crusades, when hundreds of the city's fathers and sons lost their lives on the battlefields of Palestine. With no men to marry them, the widows and young women took refuge in these religious houses, but took no vows. To this day the same rule is observed and each member is free to return to the noisy life of the city whenever she wishes. Furthermore, the Beguines pay taxes.

American visitors often remark that the Beguines of Ghent are the "prettiest nuns" to be found anywhere. Although quite unconscious of this esteem, these women, many of them from excellent families, are not there because no one asked to marry them. They devote their sheltered lives to prayer and nursing the sick of the poor. Each convent cottage of the Beguineage is named for a saint, and over the portal of their little city within a city are the gospel words in Latin, "I was a stranger and ye took me in." In their spare time they make lace so beautiful that bits of it can be found in every corner of the globe.

Keats, when dying, requested for his epitaph, "Here lies one whose name was writ in water."

EAST KINGSTON

East Kingston, Nov. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Garry and daughter, Mrs. Shabol, and children, Hugh Garry, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Garry of Schenectady and Mr. and Mrs. John White were delightfully entertained at a cocktail party Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bush.

Mrs. John Long, Jr., is rapidly recovering at the Benedictine Hospital, having been operated on by Dr. F. E. O'Connor.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bostel of East Kingston entertained Mr. and Mrs. John Acker and family to a turkey dinner Sunday in honor of Mr. Acker's victory in election. He is now Judge Acker.

Five out of six pedestrians injured in motor car accidents are struck before they reach the middle of the street they are crossing.

Historic Houses of Kingston

No. 15—MATTHEW JANSEN HOUSE

Freeman Photo

One of the most interesting of the old houses of this city is the Matthew Jansen homestead located on the corner of Crown and John streets, and known by some of the older residents as the "House of Doctors," because of the many doctors that have made it their residence down through the years.

The main house on the northwest corner of the intersection of Crown and John streets was built about 1706 by Dr. Mancius of Albany on land purchased from Anneke Jans of Trinity Church, New York city. The house, one of the finest of that period and really a mansion in its day, was built for the doctor's younger brother but was never occupied by him, and a few years after its completion it came by deed or gift to the family of Matthew Jansen, in which there were two doctors.

At this time the little addition on the north side was erected.

In later years, the house was the home of the late Judge Harndenburgh and his wife. Upon their death, the place was rented for a number of years and then purchased by the late Dr. J. C. Norton, father of Mrs. Sara Norton Reed, who now resides in the house.

To further bear out the name of the "House of Doctors" it has been recorded that at various times the following doctors have had their offices in the house: Dr. Norton, Dr. W. J. O'Leary, Dr. John O'Leary, Dr. W. Baker, Dr. Harry Meinhardt.

The architecture and structural qualities of the old Jansen house are well worthy of note. The 20-inch thick limestone walls are held together with cement. The entrance to the house has been altered in that a smaller door and frame has been substituted for the original door, which is in possession of Mrs. Reed and which she hopes some day to restore to its rightful location. The original plan of the house was an L-shaped affair with a large, dark reception hall directly behind the front entrance, a large room opening off this hall on one side, and two smaller rooms opening off the other side. Directly behind the large room on one side of the house was the kitchen, which formed the L-shaped plan. Between this kitchen and the front room is a rather peculiar cellarway, and adjoining the kitchen on the back of the house is the summer kitchen which originally consisted of a stone floor and roof, with no side walls—typical of the Dutch architecture of that time. The original Dutch doors of six panels are still in use, and two types of hinges are on them. One type is the "spear" hinges, while the other is the "Holy Lord" hinges, so called because of the HL formation. The stairway to the second story comes down into the reception hall and here can be ascertained the fact that the true Dutch stairs boasted no newel post but had a "goose-neck" banister. In one of the inner doors are two bulls-eyes of glass which are thought to have been installed about 100 years ago for the purpose of letting more light into the otherwise dark hall.

Another feature of the house is the chimney. On the ground floor this chimney is triangular-shaped to allow for two fireplaces in the corners of adjacent rooms. This chimney bends as it ascends to the second story, and finally emerges from the roof in the usual oblong chimney.

The second floor originally contained two large rooms with a smaller room over the kitchen. In one of these rooms is the fireplace which at one time was faced with old Dutch tile, long since broken and vanished except for a few pieces which Mrs. Reed has preserved and hung over this fireplace.

The attic of the house is especially interesting with its hand-hewn beams, held together with pegs, and each beam marked with a roman numeral carved into the wood for the purpose of making it easier to find the proper place when the house was built.

All in all, the Matthew Jansen house is one of the finest of the historic houses of Kingston, being preserved as nearly as possible in its original state.

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Tales of the wretched traffic conditions in New York are not always believed by outsiders.

But here is a mishap, featuring Sheila Barrett, which really illustrates how hopeless things have become.

Miss Barrett was thoughtful enough to enter a cab on a recent evening and give an address on the other side of the island.

Now every body should know that taxis are no way to make speed while crossing the island. The traffic is so slow that one could easily walk twice the distance in half the time.

But Miss Barrett still had several hours to keep her appointment and, optimistic that she is, thought that she would reach there in time.

Finally, after the cab had made only five blocks in 40 minutes, she became bored. "Had I known we were going to be here this long," Miss Barrett said archly, "I'd have gone into that restaurant for something to eat."

"You've still got plenty of time," cried the driver encouragingly. "If we get started before you get back, I'll yell."

In a sentimental gesture which should be applauded by all who enjoy an occasional nod to the past, the Hotel Roosevelt has introduced "Betsy Flanagan" to New York.

Betsy was a lady who kept an inn near Yonkers during the Revolutionary period, and her tap room was a favorite rendezvous for British and French officers whose commands were stationed in the vicinity.

One day an American officer arrived with several cock pheasants which he had stolen from a British commissary, and asked that they be roasted. In preparing the feast, Betsy also prepared some potent drinks and decorated each glass with one of the gaudy feathers from the cock pheasant's tails.

This was a great success and caused one gallant to spring to his feet.

"Here's to Betsy and her marvelous drink," he cried, "it offers the same delightful sensations as the cock's tail feathers offer to the eye."

Whereupon one of the French officers exclaimed: "Vive le cock-tail!" And that was how the cock-tail obtained its name.

Birthday At Last

By MARY GRAHAM BONNER

IT DIDN'T really matter the exact day when Top Notch's celebration took place because they had all made up their minds at Willy Nilly's suggestion to celebrate their birthdays at this time of the year.

Now Top Notch was so much better that he was ready to go to his store but Willy Nilly felt that it was wise for him to wear a little sweater.

Top Notch didn't care about wearing the sweater, and began to say that he didn't need it—but in his rooster heart he knew he would feel more comfortable with it on and he had been vain enough!

So they all went over to Top Notch's General Store now. There he saw how beautifully Willy Nilly and the bears had painted it for him. There he saw the new sign that had been put out for him. There he saw how his shelves had been arranged and that the Puddle Muddlers had gathered fresh supplies for him.

He felt guilty, seeing how much they had done, when he thought of how his only idea had been to look his best. But he was happy.

They did care for him. They had done so much for him.

"Many, many happy returns of the day!" they shouted and cawed and barked and growled and bleated and quacked.

"Thank you, thank you so tremendously," he said. "I don't deserve all this but perhaps that makes it all the more wonderful—and I'll try to deserve it from now on." Then he cackled: "Sweet Feat and Christopher haven't had their birthday celebrations yet!"

Tomorrow—"Sweet Face's Birthday."

Oysters Subpoenaed

Pittsburgh — Three hundred and twenty-eight pints of oysters, "more or less," were listed today as defendants in a federal court suit.

The government charges the oysters were adulterated, "water having been added to the product to reduce or lower its quality," a violation of the Pure Food and Drug Act.

The oysters will be destroyed unless the owner intervenes.

As Good As Two
San Angelo, Tex.—He's the best driver we've tested," Examiner Harold Graves said of truck driver C. H. Chappel, who scored 97 on driving tests.

One of Chappel's eyes is sightless.

Washout
Chicago—After spending two weeks grilling a well, John Wiering heard a roar and saw a liquid stream shoot 15 feet into the air. "Oil," someone shouted. Neighbors overran the place, adding to the general excitement. But the boom didn't last long.

"This oil is all wet," Wiering said after smelling the liquid. "It's good artesian water."

While Cat's Away?
Shelton, Wash.—Rats stole all the traps loggers set to catch them.

So the woodsmen got a rat-catching cat. Ten minutes passed. Came a "meow." Loggers found the cat caught in a trap the rats had stolen.

Modern Wood Lore
Ashland, Wis.—Earl Beauregard, 18-year-old Chippewa Indian, was lost 20 hours in the wilds of the Bad River Indian reservation.

Did Earl look for the mossy side of the trees or tell the directions by the stars, send up smoke signals or rely on the red man's wood lore to get his bearings? Earl did not. He merely looked for the white man's electric power line and followed it into the village.

Both Chaucer and Villon wrote ballads requesting financial assistance from their patrons.

Cripple Creek History

The district about Cripple Creek, Colo., swarmed with prospectors in the 1870s and 1880s, but each report of finding gold in abundance there proved false and for several years thereafter the region contained only a lonely cattle ranch and a few prospectors who continued the search.

But on the Fourth of July, 1891, the famous Independence vein, on what is now the site of Victor, transformed the region into one of the greatest gold-producing districts of the world.

First Printer in United States

The first printer in the United States was Stephen Daye, who came to Massachusetts in 1638 under contract to Rev. Samuel Glover, who brought a printing press, but died on the voyage to America. Daye set up the press in Cambridge and there, in 1639, issued as a broadside, "The Freeman's Oath," the first piece of printing in the Colonies—Washington Star.

"Devil's Revenge"

Cologne cathedral, one of the most famous in the world, was not completed until 1830, more than 600 years after it was started. A legend explains that the devil helped the architect plan it, and when he was duped out of his pay he made the world forget the name of the architect and held up the construction for generations.

DEER HUNTERS MUST MAKE REPORTS NOW

Albany, Nov. 18—Hunters who were successful in shooting a deer during the season which closed Monday have only two more days in which to get their reports in to the Conservation Department offices in this city.

Commissioner Lithgow Osborne called attention of all license holders to this provision of the law today. Section 190 of the Conservation Law is the one to which he refers.

One part of the special deer license which the Department issues must be returned to the offices here if a deer is taken. On this stub there is space for information on the date and county in which the animal was shot and the horns or number of points.

This has to be forwarded by registered mail and all reports must be sent in not later than November 30.

Deer may be possessed after Saturday by those who lawfully took them during the open season. Persons desiring to do this may apply to the Conservation Department for a permit and this is good until February 1.

A similar permit to cover the possession of bear to February also is required.

Lazy students who fail to complete high school within four years should be charged tuition for additional instruction, in the opinion of Myrtle E. Wylie, Allegheny High School teacher.

"Say, the way that mixes in a Manhattan...tastes like one of those pre-war American blends!"

YOU are going to hear that same remark many times in the next few months as men who knew the pre-war whiskeys get acquainted with National's EAGLE.

For one of the rich traditions of the days before the war was the smooth delicacy of those finer American blends... the way they mingled in a Manhattan or a Whiskey Sour. They had a silken perfection... they blended so smoothly that a man who knew them never forgot.

And National's EAGLE has just that same exquisite perfection! Like a great gentleman of the Old South, it mingles in any company, never for one instant losing its individuality but never intruding itself.

Order a drink of National's EAGLE at the bar or restaurant. Or take a bottle home from your liquor store and make the acquaintance of this great American blend!

It's a great whiskey!... American to the last drop... made the old American way with whiskey and velvet grain neutral spirits that were distilled here in the U.S.A. in our own distilleries! A great whiskey with a distinctive difference in taste that gives a new pleasure to a highball!

Schirick Signs Consolidation for Three Auto Cases

Justice Harry E. Schirick has signed an order of consolidation in three actions growing out of a collision between a feed truck of L. C. Dixon of Kingston, G. L. F. Feed store manager, and the car of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Parke of Poughkeepsie at Ulster Park some time ago. As a result of the accident three actions were commenced. Mr. Dixon brought an action against Carlton W. Parke and the Parke brought actions against Mr. Dixon, owner of the truck, and William Emberson, driver.

Mr. Dixon brought his action in Ulster county and the two other actions were brought in Dutchess county where they reside. Recently a motion was made by A. J. Cook for plaintiff, Dixon, asking that the three actions be consolidated and that the two actions now in Dutchess county be transferred to Ulster county where the accident happened and where the witnesses reside. At that time counsel for Mr. and Mrs. Parke asked the court, in the event of a consolidation and a transfer to Ulster county that the plaintiffs in the latter two actions be granted the right to open and close at the trial. A cross motion was made asking a transfer of the Ulster county action to Dutchess.

Young Men to Form Town Meet

The young men's organization of the local Y. M. C. A. is considering the formation of a Town Meeting Club, and all interested persons are asked to meet at the "Y" tonight at 9:30 o'clock.

The purpose of this club would be to listen in on the "Town Meeting of the Air" and then carry on its own discussion with the topic and knowledge gained from the broadcast.

"Whose Constitution?" one of the most bitterly argued questions of public interest in recent years, will be the subject of a fresh attack by three distinguished leaders of different viewpoints during the "America's Town Meeting of the Air" broadcast Thursday, November 18, from 9:30 to 10:30 p. m. EST, over the NBC-Blue network.

The speakers are U. S. Solicitor-General Stanley Reed, a staunch supporter of President Roosevelt's plan of court reorganization; Senator Edward R. Burke of Nebraska, one of the leaders of the opposition to the President's plan, and Norman Thomas, socialist, who favors an even more liberal policy than that advocated by the Administration forces.

WILL TELL ABOUT LIFE OF INDIAN CHILDREN

A service of special interest will be held in the Sunday School room of Clinton Avenue M. E. Church Friday, November 19, at 7:30 p. m.

Dr. Charles C. Brooks, superintendent of the Navajo Methodist Mission School at Farmington, N. M., will be the speaker. Through this school Indian boys and girls in that section of the United States are given the opportunity of securing an education. In cooperation with the government doctors and nurses the school authorities are helping eliminate tuberculosis and trachoma. Dr. Brooks will tell of the work being done for the betterment of Indian boy and girl life.

A cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend this meeting.

Talks to Students
Wednesday afternoon the students of Spencer's Business School heard a timely and interesting address given by Mrs. Laura MacMillan who was for 11 years a Red Cross Medical Society service worker on the Pacific coast. She gave a number of illustrations of typical Red Cross cases dealing with the problems of enlisted men in the Navy, her work having been closely associated with that branch of the Red Cross activities.

Formed in 1812
On November 16, 1812, people from the town of Marlborough, and principally from Milton, united to form the Methodist Episcopal Church of Milton, which still stands. The original cost of the church structure was $1,907.02. The original building reconstructed and redecorated several times still forms the main portion of the church.

Richard Burdge and Ananias Ketcham, inspectors; Thomas Woolsey, Uriah Coffin, Richard L. Woolsey and Jacob Dayton, trustees, had the courage to incorporate and the certificate of incorporation was witnessed by William Bolton and Nathan Clendenen, before Justice David Staples and attested by Clerk Christopher Tappen.

From the time of its founding, Milton continued on the Methodist circuit with several other churches until 1840 when it became a pastoral charge. In 1880 the Milton church became a "Station" with a resident pastor, as it is today. There are now 132 members of the church.

Foreign News in Brief

Rome, Nov. 18 (AP).—The Italian government, furthering its program to raise money for self-sufficiency development of the empire, clapped a 40 per cent increase on the gasoline tax today.

The levy raised the price of gasoline in Rome by 25 per cent, the new figure being 3.32 lire a liter or 66 cents a gallon.

5 Nazi Consulates
Moscow, Nov. 18 (AP).—Germany was reported officially today to have agreed to close five consulates in the Soviet Union by January 15 under reciprocal provisions for duplicate representation in the two countries.

Since Russia had consulates only at Hamburg and Koenigsberg, Germany consented to withdraw all but her Kiev and Novosibirsk representatives, it was said. This meant the closing of consulates at Leningrad, Tiflis, Kharkov, Vladivostok and Odessa.

Italian Ship Sinks
London, Nov. 18 (AP).—Lloyd's, the underwriting agency, reported that an explosion in the hold of the Italian freighter Boccaccio sank the 3,027-ton vessel in the English Channel today.

The crew took to lifeboats and all apparently were saved, Lloyd's said.

Denies "Ultimatum"
Paris, Nov. 18 (AP).—The French foreign office and the Japanese embassy formally denied today that France had received an "ultimatum" from Japan to cease transporting war materials to China over the French-owned railroad from Indo-China to Yunnan.

Nevertheless, Senator Henry Berenger, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, who declared in a speech that Japan had "warned" France, still insisted his statement held good, as he had not used the word "ultimatum."

When Shanghai Rebuilds
Shanghai, (Correspondence of The Associated Press).—More than $6,000,000 and two years of work will be required to repair the streets of the international settlement damaged by the Chinese-Japanese war.

A recent survey by the public works department of the Shanghai municipal council showed destruction in the settlement war zones of Hongkew, Wayside and Yangtzepoo was so great that even Japanese mechanized army units were unable to use the streets.

Tax collections have fallen off 50 per cent because of the war, leaving the international settlement treasury with scarcely enough funds for its $250,000 monthly payroll.

Berlin, Nov. 18 (AP).—Social aspects of Viscount Halifax's Berlin trip served today to conceal the British diplomat's mission in coming here to talk with Chancellor Adolf Hitler and German statesmen.

Shokan, Nov. 17.—Charles Schipp, a former resident of Ashokan, was numbered among the hustling business men seen here Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Norris of Kingston were recent dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Anor Longyear.

The gate chamber of the reservoir, ordinarily a quiet spot on week days at this season of the year, presented an animated scene Tuesday as scores of men gathered to take the examinations for New York city water works jobs. Many were disappointed to learn that only those who had made applications in 1932 were eligible. Several local men between the ages of 21 and 35 years, took the tests. The city employs a large force of men on Ashokan reservoir work. Some of them having a permanent rating while others are known as emergency appointees.

A meeting of the Shokan Home Bureau took place Tuesday afternoon at the residence of Miss Edna Longyear. The lesson studied at this meeting was the last one of the block printing project. The bureau members brought specimens of their work, such as Christmas cards and signs, and received help from the instructor in the completion of their prints. The project, though previously taken up here, was repeated for the benefit of a few ladies who missed the first course.

Mrs. Earl Elmendorf was a guest Sunday at the home of her friends, the Misses Ann and Betty Gruber, in Kingston. Mrs. Elmendorf also called on Mrs. June Laaser, one time resident of Shokan and Brown Station, who is convalescing, following a major operation.

Summer residents here for the week-end included Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cruikshank and children of Ridgefield Park, N. J.

Several local families had one or more hunters as their guests during the two weeks' open season for deer. A party staying at the Earl Brundage farm house in the heights section was made up of the following Johnson City residents: Harry McFall, Bob Sissou, Dick, Bill, Pete and Mahlon Hilary, Willis Vermilla and Mervin Grant. Of these hunters Mr. McFall was successful in getting a deer.

Wallace J. Andrews, district superintendent of schools, was a caller at the Shokan school house Monday afternoon.

November 19, 1875, a vendue took place at the home of Morrison Secor, who for many years was a well known farmer in the Coons, of heights district of Shokan. Mr. Secor, who died several years ago, was the father of Mrs. Amasa Slawson of Kingston.

Clayton Johnson and son of Poughkeepsie and Mrs. May Whitaker and family of Haines Falls were week-end callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Brundage.

A number of the reservoir employees are currently engaged in cutting out underbrush and trimming trees near the reservoir park. Miss Lydia Scott, Shokan's leading philatelist, is receiving congratulations on winning five prizes for her exhibits at the stamp show in Kingston.

Old residents of North Olive were sorry to learn of the death in Kingston Sunday of Homer Hinkley, a native son and for many years one of the town's best known residents. During his long term of service as foreman of Z. P. Bolce's sawmill stables he was credited with many acts of kindness, not least among which was a willingness to lend his valuable advice and assistance in cases of sick and injured animals.

The next meeting of the Shokan Home Bureau will take place November 30 at the residence of Mrs. Floyd Merrihew in Ashokan. The project topic will be pneumonia control, and the leader in this study will be Miss Carrie Brooks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Weimar of Flushing, L. I., were included among the guests at the Longyear House last week.

The rumor persists that the Route 28 four-lane concrete road, if continued westward from West Hurley, will traverse the mountain slopes at a considerable distance from the present tortuous route. Several citizens whose places lie off the state route, express themselves as not at all pleased at the possibility of a heavily traveled thoroughfare coming through or near their properties. One citizen recently pointed out that it would be much cheaper to straighten out the present numerous curves and secure the necessary easements of reservoir preserve lands, while another rather facetiously suggested that this would result in the disadvantage of less money being spent and fewer jobs handed out, in the course of such road changes.

Paul James has been engaged in superintending the harvesting of his big corn crop near Kingston.

The frequent rains have made some heavy farm land a bit too wet for satisfactory fall plowing. Although comparatively little rye and wheat are sown here, many farmers aim to tear up a piece of sod ground in order to facilitate corn and oats cultivation the following spring. The ground at no time this season has been frozen hard enough to interfere with plowing operations and this factor doubtless will make for heavier plantings next year.

Mrs. Henry Winchell of the Samonville road was a business caller in the hub of the reservoir country Monday. The South Olive matron, who is one of the town's most successful poultry raisers, brought along as a gift to Elwyn Winchell some extraordinarily large-sized eggs from her flock of Rhode Island Red fowls. Locally, fresh eggs are very scarce, with some flocks producing only one or two a day for the past several weeks.

PREVIEWED

Today

Broadway: "Madame X." One of the one motion picture standards takes a new lease of life on the Broadway screen, thanks to the capabilities of Gladys George in the starring role. This famous dramatization of a woman's sacrifice has been made into a realistic film as it describes the plight of a girl who loved well but not wisely with its resulting disgrace. The court room scene, long famous for its emotional appeal, is done with a gripping brilliance and Miss George makes her character vibrant and alive. Others in the cast of this Metro-Goldwyn Mayer presentation include John Beal and Warren Williams.

Kingston: "Murder in Greenwich Village" and "This Way Please." A fast paced murder drama and a light comedy offering make up the double feature attraction at the Kingston with Richard Arlen and Fay Wray featured in the mystery play, and with Charles Rogers starred in the other film.

Orpheum: "Devil is Driving" and "Beware of Ladies." The stalwart Richard Dix is starred in the first feature at the Orpheum as a man who turns from seeking the loopholes of law into actually seeing that justice is done. "Beware of Ladies" is a romantic comedy offering with Judith Allen featured.

Tomorrow

Broadway: Same.

Kingston: "The Perfect Specimen". In an effort to create the same sparkling mood of the now famous "It Happened One Night", this First National production is taken from the same author with the talented Michael Curtiz as director. Although it fails to achieve its purpose completely the play is nevertheless a humorous and romantic drama of the woman-chases-man school of drama. The cast is headed by Errol Flynn and others include Joan Blondell, Edward Everett Horton, Beverly Roberts, Dick Foran, Hugh Herbert and Allen Jenkins. Here is a light and breezy bit of nonsense made enjoyable through the work of the featured players.

Orpheum: "Woman Chases Man" and "Fighting Texan". Miriam Hopkins carries the brunt of the honors in the first drama on the Orpheum double feature bill, a familiar but well done story of a poor girl who marries the rich young man with resulting consequences. Joel McCrea is also in the cast. "Fighting Texan" is the other attraction with Kermit Maynard riding high, wide and handsome in another tale of the winning of the southwest.

William Congreve, famous for comedies, wrote one tragedy, "The Mourning Bride."

BAKING DISHES

By Frank H. Beck.

The Moss Feature Syndicate, Greenboro, N. C.

A native of Ireland started away on his first trip. Never having seen a railway station he did not know how to get his ticket, but he saw a lady going in and determined to follow her lead. The lady went to the ticket window and, putting down her money, said, "Mary Hill, single."

Next in line was Pat, who promptly plunked down his money and said, "Patrick Murphy, married."

Teacher—Now, suppose a man working on the river bank suddenly fell in. He could not swim and would be in danger of drowning. Picture the scene. The man's sudden fall, the cry for help. His wife knows his peril and hearing his screams, rushes immediately to the bank. Why does she run to the bank?

Boy—To draw his insurance money.

Today
Trouble I don't wish to borrow,
So I think not of tomorrow,
For I only live today.
Yesterday is gone forever,
And recall it I can never,
So I forget it, taking joys while I may.

I don't dream of future pleasures,
Today's hours are my treasures,
Far too soon they'll slip away;
Thus I live each precious minute,
Grasping all that I find in it,
For I only live today.

Sandy, Jr., it seems was in difficulties. In a moment of weakness he had loaned a friend $500 without benefit of written receipt. In desperation, he consulted his father.

Father—(considering)—That's easy, my lad. Write him and say you need the one thousand dollars instant.

Sandy, Jr.—You mean the five hundred dollars.
Father—That I do not. You say one thousand dollars and he will write back that he only owes you five hundred. Then you will have it in writing.

We have tolerated a cat at home because the children liked it. But now that we have discovered it will eat potato salad, we positively welcome it around the house.

The bright young pupil looked long and thoughtfully at the second examination question, which read: "State the number of tons of coal shipped out of the United States in any given year." Then his brown cleared and he wrote: "1492—None."

The nation needs more men who continue to love the people after the political campaigning.

Doctor—Your husband is a very sick man and he needs a special nurse.

Mrs. Gnags—Well, if he has to have a nurse I wish you would send a homely one.

Doctor—I would do it if I could—but all the homely ones have starved to death during the depression.

Some funny incidents happen at the public library. Just the other day a woman patron asked permission to fill her fountain pen at the librarian's inkwell.

"I have to go down to the post office to write a money order and I don't like the ink they have down there," she explained.

Knowing may be a drug on the market but doing never is.

Lawyer—Now, sir, did you, or did you not, on the date in question, or at any other time, previously or subsequently say or even intimate to the defendant or anyone else, alone or with anyone, whether a friend or mere acquaintance, or, in fact, a stranger, that the statement imputed to you, whether just or unjust, and denied by the plaintiff, was a matter of no moment or otherwise? Answer me, yes or no?

Witness—Yes or no what?

The man at the theatre was annoyed by conversation in the row behind.

Man (turning)—Excuse me, but we can't hear a word.

Woman (behind)—Well, what we are talking about isn't any of your business.

Business Club Hosts At Holiday Dinner

Eighty members of the Business Girls' Club of the Y. W. C. A., 23 of which were guests from the Newburgh club, attended the annual Thanksgiving dinner at the Y. W. C. A. last evening. The tables were especially decorated for the occasion with chrysanthemums, candles and Thanksgiving favors. Each table also had the label of a family name, which later proved an interesting and amusing method of introducing the guests. Miss Peggy Seymour, president of the Business Girls' Club of Newburgh, responded to the welcome made by Miss Ruth Vandenberg, president of the local organization.

The guest speaker of the evening was Frank W. Mason of Saugerties, who addresses the club annually on some vital political problem. Mr. Mason discussed last evening the Sino-Japanese situation. He discussed the early history of the two countries, of China, with her ancient culture, and Japan, with her attitude of a child which has grown up too suddenly. He then gave the characteristics of the two peoples; China, exceedingly individualistic, wanting to be left alone, and leaving others alone; and Japan, the upstart of the nations, with her imitiveness and bitterness.

With this background given, Mr. Mason presented the situation, comparing it to similar actions of other nations, stating that it was the direct product of a Japanese Monroe Doctrine. In the orient, with Japan's military force the "hank over" of the feudal system.

Mr. Mason concluded his address by giving his opinions of the final outcome. He did not assume that Japan would immediately make war on Russia. He felt that the United States should not give help to either country, that nothing of any permanent value could be gained by intervention in any way. Mr. Mason concluded by saying that he was more concerned with the fascism of Japan than he was with the Sino-Japanese war.

Sacred Cantata at Newburgh

On Sunday evening the Trinity M. L. choir of Newburgh will present for the first time in the church the short sacred cantata, "Seed-time and Harvest" by Miles Foster, very appropriate at this time of the year. Soloists for the evening will be Miss Beatrice Reynolds and Mrs. Andrew Sterling sopranos, Mrs. B. T. Irving and Miss Teresa Doyle contraltos, Jack Goldstein and John W. Nichols, tenors, and Charles T. Everett and Leo A. Mapes, basses. Explanations of the text will be made by Dr. Howard Thompson. The music will be under the direction of John W. Nichols with Miss Helen Crooks in at the organ. This will be the first musical offering by Trinity choir this season.

Last West Point Organ Recital

The last organ recital of the autumn series will be held in the chapel of the U. S. Military Academy, West Point, Sunday afternoon, November 21, beginning promptly at 3 o'clock.

"Poeme Heroique," by Marcel Dupre which will receive a performance from manuscript—the first hearing in America. The number was written by Dupre two years ago for the dedication of the new cathedral and organ at Verdun. It is scored for organ, three trumpets, three trombones, and field drums. The program will also reflect the approaching festival of Thanksgiving.

Parking of cars in the vicinity of the chapel will be permitted for this event. The recital is free to the public, and lovers of music are invited to attend. The complete program follows: Organ—"Now Thank We All Our God," Karg-Elert (b) Allegro Moderato, Sonata 1—Bach (c) Funeral March, from "The Dusk of the Gods," Wagner (Plute—Plute Sonata III, in E Major) (d) Adagio (e) Allegro (f) Allegro Organ—Cortege and Litaney—Marcel Dupre Organ, trumpets, trombones and drums "Poeme Heroique"—Dupre

LIVE UP TO EVERY OCCASION WITH GAY, SPARKLING PHRASES

No Awkward Silences Mar Their Fun

Helene's a fascinating companion. Since she's learned a little store of vivid phrases she can happily key her talk to any occasion.

"What a furious resistance the Blues are giving," she says to Don at the football game. "In this mad fracas anything can happen."

At the theater that night she talks easily about the play. "Superbly acted," she says to Ken in the intermission, "and gay as the morning."

Yet Helene used to be a regular "tongue-tie." Much worse than you. If she could blossom into a charming talker by learning colorful, gracious phrases, surely you can.

Perhaps you hate to meet strangers. Learn a few ice-breakers beforehand and be at your cordial, attractive best. "A delightful party, isn't it?" "I've heard so many nice things about you from Kay." "Are you a candid camera fan, too?" Then when you've won new friends by your poised and charming talk, don't slump. Accept invitations enthusiastically with "There's nothing I'd rather do." Or refuse if you must with "I'm so sorry I can't come."

Every time you date or go to a party—or have a business interview—brush up your talk with our 40-page booklet, 1500 USEFUL PHRASES. Vivid, pleasing phrases for all occasions help you win admiration.

Send 15c for our booklet, 1500 USEFUL PHRASES, to Kingston Daily Freeman Home Institute, 109 West 19th street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 quarts of waste.

Frequent or steady passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up twice, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

The league proposal came as authorities on municipal problems gathered from all over the country for the sessions ending Saturday.

Recommends Legislation

New York, Nov. 18 (AP).—A grand jury which spent seven months investigating racket conditions in Brooklyn today recommended legislation to make labor unions "amenable to the laws which govern business."

The grand jury warned that government disregard of labor union strife might "encompass the ruin" of both industry and labor, and urged municipal, state or federal supervision of all union funds and disbursements.

Utica Milk Meeting

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 18 (AP).—County organizations of the Dairy Farmers' Union, sponsor of a 19-county upstate milk strike, will meet here tonight to give final ratification to agreements with 23 independent dealers.

Archibald Wright, chairman of the organizing committee who announced the meeting, said the settlements had been approved at a central committee session in Utica Tuesday.

The union demands recognition as the sole bargaining organization and "elimination of dealer-controlled co-operatives."

Baby Carriage Protest

New York, Nov. 18 (AP).—More than 1,000 mothers, mostly from the East Side, plan to stage a "baby carriage milk protest" march on the city hall Saturday.

Protesting against the recently-raised retail price of milk, the mothers are preparing to carry their babies, wheel them in carriages, and tow along their older children in the march.

It was indicated the city hall would welcome them. Civil Service Commissioner Paul J. Kern, representing Mayor LaGuardia at a banquet last night, told the mothers, in fact, that they would be welcome.

"Six and one-half cents profit is made on every quart of milk sold in New York city," he said. "If people stand that outrageous gouging, they simply are not doing their duty."

Tunney a Banker.

New York, Nov. 18 (AP).—Gene Tunney, former prize fighter, is now a banker. The Morris Plan Industrial Bank announced today the one-time heavyweight champion had been elected to the board of directors.

System Called Successful.

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 18 (AP).—Operation of the city manager form of government in eight cities of the nation was pronounced a success at the opening of the 43rd annual meeting of the National Municipal League here today.

Although pointing to some disappointments and setbacks, the spokesmen voiced their faith in the plan now in operation in 466 United States cities.

21 Claimants Remain.

New York, Nov. 18 (AP).—Only 21 of an original 1,019 claimants remained today in the long court fight for the $877,500 estate left by Mrs. Ida B. Wood, the cigar-smoking "little old lady of Herald Square."

Surrogate James A. Foley, who weeded out hundreds of litigants claiming to be relatives of the eccentric recluse, said hearing of the remaining claims would be resumed December 20.

Nine of the claimants are American, the others English and Irish.

Mrs. Wood, an enigma in life and a legend in death, died March 12, 1932, in the hotel where she spent lonely years surrounded by 40 trunks crammed with relics of the days when she was a reigning society belle.

She carried her entire fortune—which she built by astute business deals from the estate left her by her husband, publisher of the old New York News—sewn in paper bags hidden beneath her dress.

State Gasoline Hearing.

New York, Nov. 18 (AP).—The New York state joint legislative committee, investigating the petroleum industry to determine, among other things, the cost of gasoline to the consuming public, opened a two-day hearing today.

State grading of gasoline and what effect, of any, state licensing of gasoline stations might have on the retail market were questions to be discussed at the hearings.

At hearings a year ago representatives of various companies admitted they frequently followed the lead of Socony Vacuum, raising or lowering prices regardless of cost.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By CLAUDE E. JAGGER

New York, Nov. 18 (AP)—Recovery fuel was lacking in today's stock market and leaders suffered from selling chills that shook down prices fractions to 2 or more points.

Occasional rallies were attempted, but these were brief and feeble. Steels and motors were under pressure, along with copper and specialties. Dealings were comparatively slow, transfers being at the rate of about 900,000 shares.

Wall Street had eyes and ears mainly for Washington. While the financial district was still hopeful the present special session of Congress would revise

Committee Agrees On Revisions of Capital Gains Tax

Continuing its consideration of plans for changes in the tax laws, the House Ways and Means subcommittee yesterday agreed on sweeping revisions of the capital gains tax. The present sliding scale of deductions based on the length of time property is held would be revised and taxpayers would be given the option (except on property held one year or less) of treating net taxable gain as regular income or segregating it to be taxed at a new special maximum flat rate of 40 per cent. The changes are of special advantage to higher income brackets. In the case of annual incomes of $500,000 or more the capital gains tax cut would amount to nearly 50 per cent.

In the Senate, Chairman Harris of the finance committee said that he might favor a manufacturers' sales tax if necessary to offset modification of the surtax. Senator Wagner favors modification of both the capital gains and undistributed profits taxes to encourage investment of private capital. Senator Buckley, among other things would favor deduction of one-half of funds used for expansion or new equipment.

Stock trading slowed up yesterday, total transactions being 760,000 shares. The market opened up firm, but closed off during the day. The industrials lost 0.44 point on the Dow-Jones average, to 127.54; rails closed off 0.25 point, to 32.73; utilities declined 0.27, to 22.61.

Some dividend reports yesterday included: Liggett & Myers, $2 extras on both common and common B. Omnibus Corp. announced initial payment of $1.80 on common; U. S. Tobacco voted $2 extra and $1.25 quarterly on common. Pullman, Inc., authorized a special dividend of $1.25.

Samuel H. Wyant & Cannon Foundry declared a 25-cent extra. Boeing Airplane voted an initial dividend of 40 cents on common. Public Service Corp. of N. J. reports net of $24,555,153, or $2.67 a share for 12 months ended October 31, compared with $24,838,511, or $2.72 a share a year ago. Chile Copper net earnings for nine months ended September 30 equal to $3.94 a share, vs. 90 cents a share in 1936 period.

The Cadillac foundry at Detroit and Fisher body and Pontiac plants at Pontiac, Mich., were closed by strikes yesterday. The latter two were closed down for the second time in three days.

Winter Grips Much of Nation

Chicago, Nov. 18 (AP)—Wintry weather spread snow over most of the northern half of the nation today, the season's first appreciable fall in many sections.

In the far northwest road crews succeeded in opening the highway to Mount Baker Lodge near Bellingham, Wash., which had been isolated since Saturday by heavy snow.

Slippery highways impeded motorists in western Pennsylvania. A snowstorm over southern Wyoming halted air transportation between Salt Lake City and Omaha, then moved on to bring northern Colorado its first fall of the season.

Montana reported as much as seven feet of snow at highest elevations. In Nebraska, Minnesota, North Dakota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Missouri and Illinois, there were snow falls of varying depths.

Troop 5 Meeting
Troop 5 of the Kingston Hebrew school met last night for its regular weekly meeting with their new scoutmaster, Ben Marcus. After a lengthy instruction period the group enjoyed refreshments and games.

Chinese Launch Counter Attacks

Shanghai, Nov. 18 (AP)—Japanese army spokesmen announced tonight that Japanese troops driving to break through China's "Hindenburg" line between Shanghai and Nanking had captured one gate of the walled city of Kashiung, southern keystone of the line.

Both Chinese and Japanese reported heavy fighting in the area around Kashiung, 60 miles southwest of Shanghai and 30 miles south of Soochow, main point of Chinese defenses.

News of the Japanese push against the southern wing of the defenses stretching from the Yangtze river south to Hangchow Bay came a few hours after an unofficial government warning spurred mass migration of civilians from Nanking.

For 24 hours, Chinese had held their own along the length of the defenses to which they retreated after Shanghai fell into Japanese hands November 9. Although the Japanese received reinforcements for the onslaught today, their only advance apparently was on the southern front. They were unable to push forward toward Soochow, along the Shanghai-Nanking railroad. Fighting desperately, Chinese stood their ground between the Cheni and waiting stations.

Troops Counter Attack
Chinese reported their troops, aided by 20 warplanes, had counter-attacked and pushed Japanese back toward Cheni. They also asserted Chinese had repulsed three Japanese attempts to effect a landing at Fushan, 120 miles downstream from Nanking on the Yangtze.

Nanking technically was still the seat of government, but Chinese senior officials who remained were ready to leave on short notice. The fleeing civilian population almost engulfed columns of soldiers moving in the opposite direction—to the front.

Japanese troops in North China poised on the north bank of the Yellow river for an attack on Tsianfu, Shantung province capital, some five miles to the south. Chinese were said to be consolidating their strength along the whole Shanghai line stretching from Fushan, on the Yangtze river, south through Changshu, waiting, Kashiung and Chapoo, on Shanghai Bay.

A part of a force of 70 Japanese warships was said to have bombarded Fushan, about 30 miles downstream from Kiangyin, where Chinese have erected a barrier of sunken junk to leave Yangtze. Kiangyin is approximately 90 air miles from Nanking.

Civilians Must Leave
The Chinese government cautioned all civilians whose presence was not necessary for defense or public service to leave Nanking. No definite arrangements had been made for evacuation of United States citizens, but gunboats were on hand to move them upstream to safety if necessary.

The five councils in which Chinese government authority is vested were proceeding to Chungking, in Szechwan Province. Most ministries were being transferred to Hankow, 300 miles west of Shanghai.

The Japanese army spokesman said that from August 23 to November 15, Japan's Shanghai army suffered 39,610 casualties, with 9,760 killed in action. Casualties in North China were estimated as 80 per cent of those at Shanghai.

Treasury Seal Old

The Great Seal of the Treasury department, which is reproduced on all United States paper currency, bears an abbreviated Latin legend which, when expanded and translated, reads "The Seal of the Treasury of North America." It is a witness to the antiquity of the Treasury department, for this seal was designed before there was a treasury of the United States of America and before there was a government of the United States of America. It is older than our government, older than our Constitution. It is found ascribed to documents issued as early as 1782, seven years before the Constitution of the United States went into effect.

HELPED CAPTURE ESCAPED KIDNAPERS

Ivan Whitford, janitor, whose information led police to capture two of the three escaped O'Connell kidnapers in Syracuse is shown above in a jubilant mood. Possibly his thoughts centered around the rewards of $2,000 for each kidnaper which were offered by the Department of Justice.

Two Convicts Recaptured

penitentiary at Jamestown, N. Y., with the aid of Geary, who cut his way through cell bars to truss the prison guard staff of six and escape in a stolen car.

A. E. Gold, assistant U. S. district attorney, who prosecuted the three men along with five others at a trial in Binghamton last August, said there was a maximum penalty of five years for escaping and two years for conspiring to escape. Oley and Geary, both in their thirties, were sentenced to 17 years for the kidnaping of John J. O'Connell, Jr., of Albany. Crowley was sentenced to 28 years.

As the recaptured pair went back to closely watched jail cells, the 13th man indicted—James Sweeney—was moved into the Albany county jail to await trial. He was apprehended recently at Los Angeles.

Captain of Detectives Russell W. Humphrey said Whitford said he met the trio early yesterday and was forced to agree to provide them lodging and food at his rooming house at 111 Burnett avenue.

The janitor said that the men sent him out frequently for food and liquor and that he drank "frequently" with them "to give them the idea I was a good fellow."

It was one of these food missions that Whitford decided to "turn them in." There was a $6,000 reward posted for their capture.

8 Others Sought

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 18 (AP)—With the capture of John Oley and Harold Crowley, convicted O'Connell kidnapers, state police authorities and local officers pressed their hunt today for three other prisoners still at large.

Oley and Crowley were seized yesterday in a Syracuse rooming house while Percy Geary, the third member of the gang which fled from the Onondaga County Penitentiary early Tuesday, escaped through a bathroom window when policemen staged their raid.

Also still missing were Herbert Reynolds, 34, who escaped from the Saratoga county jail at Ballston Spa, N. Y., a week ago, and Joseph Spagnola, Auburn prison convict who fled from the Steuben county prison at Bath, N. Y., last Sunday.

Meanwhile at Plattsburg, Clayton H. Blitram, 41, and James Sweet, 32, who escaped Monday night from Clinton prison at Dannemora and were captured 24 hours later at Port Kent, N. Y., were indicted on escape charges by a Clinton county grand jury yesterday.

The industrious hen again will be an international figure when the Seventh World's Poultry Congress meets in Cleveland July 28 to August 7, 1939. The first of these triennial congresses was held in Holland in 1921. Spain, Canada, England, Italy, and Germany also have been hosts to the Congress.

Bar Association District Session To Be Held Dec. 4

Preparations are under way for the annual meeting of the Federation of the Bar Associations of the Third Judicial District, (Ulster county included), which will be held at Cobleskill, the home of the president, the Hon. William H. Golding, on December 4.

There will be an afternoon session at which the Constitutional Convention will be the theme of discussion. The afternoon session will be held at the new Central High School at Cobleskill. Judge Rosch, general counsel for The Delaware & Hudson Company at Albany, will open the discussion on this subject. It is expected that the district attorneys of the several counties within the district will discuss a proposal which has been made to abolish the office of district attorney by creating a State Department of Law similar to the Federal Department of Justice.

Also a discussion will take place upon the part of the county judges and surrogates of the district dealing with county courts and surrogates' courts as related to the proposed constitution.

A dinner will be held in the evening, and it is expected that a speaker of state and national reputation will be present upon that occasion.

This year's meeting promises to be most interesting by reason of the fact that the Constitutional Convention, which will assemble in 1938, is one of the most important groups, and its action will have lasting effects upon the fundamental law of the state for the next quarter of a century. Interest in the meeting at Cobleskill already evidenced some promise of a large attendance of the members of the bar of the judicial district.

Feed Truck Drops Into Old Canal Bed Near Rosendale

One of the delivery trucks belonging to Harry Snyder, Cotticook feed man, was badly smashed up and a ton or more of feed damaged by water, when the truck ran off the highway and down into the old canal bed near Rosendale yesterday afternoon.

The truck, operated by Asa Elmendorf, was being driven toward Rosendale, when near the railroad bridge it ran too near the edge of the highway on a turn and crashed down into the canal bed, a distance of perhaps 15 or 20 feet.

Mr. Snyder said that part of the load of feed had been delivered before the accident, but that there was perhaps a ton and a quarter left on the truck at the time of the crash. Loss of feed was due to the fact that there is a considerable amount of water in the canal bed at this time.

The driver of the truck was uninjured.
